Dear Mr Murdoch

ERUV

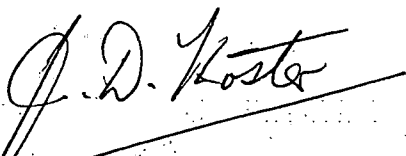

Thank you for your letter dated 24 August 1998, concerning the current situation regarding the ERUV proposals.

I can confirm that the report to the Public Works Committee on the current proposals for an ERUV will not now be submitted to the meeting to be held on 16 September. All Members of the Public Works Committee will be invited to joint site inspections of all specific locations which will be held during late September. The report will be submitted to the Public Works Committee at its meeting on 24 November. The Committee will consider whether to issue licences for the poles and wires to be placed on and over the highway at the specific locations.

As you know, the Committee were requested to hear deputations concerning the ERUV proposals at its meeting on 16 September. The organisers of those deputations have now been advised that the matter will not now be considered until November and that the Committee will hear these deputations at the opening of the meeting on 24 November.

I do not believe that I need any further information from you at present. However, if there are any issues resulting from the site inspections undertaken by Members of the Public Works Committee I will bring these to your attention at the earliest opportunity. I would hope that any issues could be resolved in early October so that the report to the November meeting remains on schedule.

Yours sincerely
