Eruv Progress Report

You will be pleased to hear that we are now making progress with the documentation for the grant of a licence to install the Eruv. Brian Levy of Fladgate Fielder, our honorary solicitors, have returned to the London Borough of Barnet the draft licence approved subject to some fairly minor amendments which should be resolved shortly. A copy of the draft licence has also been sent to the Highways Agency with a view to their granting a licence along similar lines. A reasonable quotation has been obtained from insurance brokers for third party liability. As soon as the few outstanding relatively minor formalities have been resolved, we should be in a position to place the contract for the installation of poles and wires for which an estimate has been obtained. It is therefore now crucial that the final survey be carried out. May I therefore leave it to you to let Alan Perrin know when you will be free for him to conduct you round the sites?

With all good wishes

Graham Morris
